

AEG Inland Empire Annual Spring Field Trip Announcement

Saturday - April 30, 2016

San Jacinto Fault Zone – Parks and Faults with Side Trip to Massacre Canyon

Approximately 8:00 am to 1:00 pm

Location: San Jacinto Fault Zone in Hemet and San Jacinto, Riverside County, CA

Cost: Free, but your time and talent will be taken advantage of.

Field trip will begin at the Stater Bros. shopping center at the northeast corner of State Street and Ramona Expressway in San Jacinto (There is a Starbuck!!!). The first stop will be a short hike up Massacre Canyon near Gilman Springs Road and Hwy 79 (Sanderson Avenue). The tour will progress along the San Jacinto fault zone/Casa Loma strand, through the Cities of San Jacinto and Hemet, looking at the local fault expressions, impacts on roadway alignments and urban development.

Speakers include: Dr. Sally McGill of California State University San Bernardino
Ms. Janis Hernandez of the California Geologic Survey
Ms. Lisa Battiato of Geocon
Mr. Frank Jordan

The excursion is intended to be somewhat informal with the objective to highlight the often subtle fault expression within urban development. An added attraction is the awesome San Jacinto Mountain range front along the northeast side of the City of San Jacinto to ponder the geology, faulting and landslides.

To sign up, please contact Mark Spykerman at mspykerman@earthsystems.com. Deadline to RSVP is April 20, 2016. RSVP IS REQUIRED TO OBTAIN A GUIDE BOOK.
